From the Pastor's Desk.....

Today is Easter Sunday, the day when Christ conquers sin and death. Death no longer has a hold over us for he has now proven the permanence of the human spirit. Death is but a door to a new and eternal day.

Normally, our first reading comes from the Old Testament, but beginning today and continuing through the entire Easter season, our first reading comes from Acts of the Apostles. Luke, its author, concludes his gospel with Jesus ascending to heaven. He then opens Acts with Pentecost and the Holy Spirit descending upon the apostles. Luke is the only author to give us a thorough portrait of the early church which he does in Acts.

Today we encounter Peter, but a totally different Peter than the pre-resurrection man. Then he was full of doubt (even on Easter morning), he was constantly putting his foot in his mouth, he fumbled and stumbled more than any other apostle; and now we see the great man of faith, totally transformed by what has happened.

Our second reading from Corinthians is part of Paul admonishing that community about some who had strayed from the truth. Just prior to this reading, Paul deals with a case of a man living openly with his father's wife and Paul tells them to expel him, not for his own sake, but for the sake of all. This is the "old yeast" that must be thrown out and replaced.

All four gospels present Mary Magdalene as the first one at the tomb and later, the first one to whom the Risen Christ will appear. In our account, we're told that John immediately believes when he sees the empty tomb. But not Peter — still slow, stumbling, fumbling, not sure what is going on—he hesitates; but soon he, too, will be overwhelmed by this incredible event.

Might I take this moment to wish each of you and your families a blessed and holy Easter. This is the day when all of our doubt and hopelessness about life is transformed. Death no longer has a hold over us.

The Parish Office will be closed Mon., March 28.

The Diocese of Erie is certainly not alone in having to face Pastoral Planning and a reconfiguration of parishes. Large archdioceses like Boston, New York, Philadelphia have already undergone massive restructuring. In neighboring Buffalo and Cleveland, scores of parishes have merged. In Chicago, Archbishop Blasé Cupich met with diocesan priests this past week and gave them an overview of what is coming. They anticipate 240 priests being available for 351 parishes by the year 2030. They are now beginning the process we have been undertaking though the scope of theirs is much larger than ours. You can get a glimpse of the magnitude of the closings if you go online and google "St. Adalbert's Church, Chicago, IL—photos." It is one of the parishes slated for reconfiguration. The church, built in 1912, is incredible. It is modeled after St. Paul's in Rome and is a magnificent building. But there are no people left. The buildings are deteriorating, Masses are almost empty. They need $5 million to stabilize the church towers, another million to get the pipe organ working, etc. Difficult and painful decisions are ahead for everyone, including ourselves.

St. Patrick's Parish Council met recently to introduce new members: B. J. Lechner representing the Homeless Shelter; Dennis Michalski representing the Food Pantry; Katie Froehlich representing the Young Adults; Mike Nies representing the Knights and Ladies; Gary Johnson representing the Irish Festival & Mark Alloway from the Choir. While Finance Council is focused on the parish finances, the Parish Council will focus on the life of the parish, ie., how do we involve people to better build a community, to better serve the broader community, etc.

I mentioned several weeks ago that we are interviewing people to do some work on our Stations of the Cross. Those invaluable stations were hand-carved in Munich, Germany over a period of three years by the family of Gabriel Mayer (1892-95). St. Patrick's Church was then designed around them and built in 1906. Some of the wooden bases are splitting, a finger is broken, paint is chipped, etc. They are much too valuable not to care for, and we getting bids now and interviewing artists who can do the work. I will keep you posted on developments.

Bishop Mitchell Rozanski of Springfield, MA used the Lenten season to tell people who feel unwelcome in the church because of gender, race or sexual orientation that he is deeply sorry and wants to work to make them feel welcome. One person told him "the gay community feels that they aren't welcome. They don't want another religion; therefore, they don't attend church at all." He also heard similar statements from women who said they did not often feel accepted and welcome. "Many people have been treated unkindly, impatiently, or rudely by clergy, religious, ministers and parish staffs, all of which is unacceptable." "I ask your forgiveness," said the bishop as he pledged the entire diocese to become more open and accepting.

The Japanese eat very little fat and have far fewer heart attacks than the British or the Americans. The French eat lots of fat and have far fewer heart attacks than the British or the Americans. The Japanese drink little red wine and have far fewer heart attacks. The Italians drink an excessive amount of red wine and have far fewer heart attacks than the British or the Americans. The Germans eat copious amounts of fatty sausage and drink enormous amounts of beer and they, too, have far fewer heart attacks than the British or Americans. The conclusion: eat and drink whatever you want; the problem is speaking English!

Dyngus Day 2016, Monday March 28th—

Dyngus Day is a Polish tradition celebrating the end of Lent and the beginning of Spring...

A Family Perspective Easter Sunday

Millions of Christians around the world celebrate the Resurrection today, It all began simply on the first Easter with one person telling another: "Mary told Peter" and "they believed." Faith is passed one person to another; it is caught, not taught and parents are the most effective persons to pass faith to their children.

173 DAYS TO THE IRISH FESTIVAL

THE ORIGINAL IRISH POLE

Dennis Michalski has been in charge of selling advertisements for the Irish Festival Program for the last three years. Each year he's managed to raise both the income and the profile of the festival. He has even more planned this year, selling tent and equipment sponsorships as well. He and his wife, Terri, got their start with the festival working the Festival's Whiskey Bar and then the Sports Bar, and this year they are taking over the operation of the Sports Bar along with friends, Scott and Jane Lightner. And, Dennis and Terri work every week at the St. Pat's Food Pantry. Dennis, for all his good work, is being inducted this year as a Knight of St. Patrick.

Now you may be asking yourself at this point, "How did a nice Polish boy like 'Ski,' as his old (real old) college roommates call him, make his way to such an obviously Irish church?" Well, Ski and Terri heard Father Kriegel's unique and uplifting message at Mount Calvary about 6 years back and became avowed Kriegelites. They followed him like disciples to St. Pats and have found a real home here. And, hey, having a few Polish guys at an Irish church comes in handy when a light bulb needs changing.

But seriously, Dennis and Terri love that the Irish Festival is now held in the shadow of our beautiful church. It's a lot more work and a whole lot more money, but they love the way it highlights Father Kriegel's goal of making the parish a community and not just a place where strangers come to worship once a week.

If you have leads for program advertisements or sponsorships, would like to sponsor something or yourself, or just want to meet the original Irish Pole, you can email Dennis at terrianddennis@gmail.com.

Gary and Becky Johnson, Festival Chairs, can be reached at gjohnson@brotolocsouth.com or beckykj@neo.rr.com.
Keep those cards and letters coming, folks.

THANKS TO ALL YOU WHISKEY FAIRIES WHO DONATED IRISH GOLD AT LAST WEEK'S WHISKEY COLLECTION. WITH YOUR HELP, THE NEW AND IMPROVED FESTIVAL WHISKEY AND IRISH COFFEE BARS WILL BE AN EVEN GREATER SUCCESS.

Chuck, Ron, Jim, and Paul
