Today is the Nineteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time and we hear first from the first Book of Kings. After 40 days fleeing the wrath of his angry monarch, Elijah reaches Mount Horeb (another name for Mount Sinai where Moses also met the Lord. Exhausted and praying for death, Elijah meets an angel sent by God to minister to the burnt-out prophet. Refreshed, Elijah journeys to the mountaintop. Here, God calls him to stand at the mouth of the cave where he's hiding and wait for the appearance of the Lord. God wants to show him that his fears are unfounded and that God has abandoned neither prophet or nation. And here Elijah will learn that our God is the master of the unexpected. Following the natural phenomena of wind, earthquake and fire, Elijah returns to the cave with his face covered for he knows his God is there. He also knows that this God who appears in surprising ways, has more surprises in store.

Continuing to read from Paul Letter to the Romans, we hear Paul bluntly tell the Israelites how disappointed he is in their failure to embrace Christ. Early Christians struggled with the scandal of Israel's rejection of Jesus, the Messiah God first sent to the Jews. Paul's pain is so great that he would even consider sacrificing his own salvation. There is no hint of condemnation here, only genuine concern for his people. The mystery we encounter is God's elective mercy, not Israel's sinfulness. A giant "why" hovers over this passage. Paul lists the privileges God entrusted to Israel, making Israel the doorway that ushered Christ into the world. The use of the present tense ("theirs is" no "theirs was") asserts Paul's conviction that Israel continues to enjoy these benefits.

Our gospel from Matthew immediately follows the story of the loaves and the fishes. Here it serves a different purpose than in Mark. In Mark, despite this great miracle, the disciples remain unaware of Jesus' identity. Mark tells us their hearts were hardened and they did not understand. Recall that in Mark, Jesus is greatly frustrated with his disciples for their failure to recognize him. Matthew has the disciples understanding who he is. Here we see a deeper understanding, especially in Peter. Anticipating the words of the centurion at the cross, they are able to proclaim Jesus as the Son of God. Ultimately, the incident says to us what it said to the disciples: in Jesus we find a divine person who transcends human categories and before whom we have little choice but to do "him homage."

Friday of this week is the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, a holyday of obligation. In line with the directive of Bishop Persico that we eliminate Masses when the church is less than half filled, we will NOT have a Vigil Mass on Thursday evening. The bishop has told the eastside pastors that we have to start cutting back on the number of holyday Masses because we do not have enough priests to celebrate them plus the churches are far less than half filled. That is certainly the case with the Vigil Mass at St. Hedwig's, and in compliance with his request, we will eliminate that Mass. The holyday Mass will be celebrated on Friday at 12:05 PM at St. Patrick's. There are Vigil Masses at Mount Calvary at 5:15 PM, at St. James at 5 & 7 PM, at St. Joseph Bread of Life at 5:15 PM, at St. Luke's at 5:15 PM, at the cathedral at 5 PM. There are also evening Masses on the holyday itself at Holy Rosary at 7 PM, at Holy Trinity at 5:30 PM, at Mount Carmel at 6 PM, St. James at 5:30 PM.

Plans are getting finalized for the festival and it is exciting to see so many people willing to help. We are going to have a 50' x 125' tent in the east parking lot and another tent 30' x 75'. In front of the church—right on 4th Street—we will have another large tent and the stage, dance floor and bleachers will be located here. In the side yard between the rectory and the church we will have another tent and this will be the children's area. Food will be served in the 50' x 125' tent which will stretch from the east side of the church out to Holland Street. Some of the booths will be in that tent as well as the other tent which will run alongside the small shrine area east of the church.

We will also have St. Patrick's Church open on Friday from 5 PM—8 PM and on Saturday from 3 PM—8 PM. We will need to have some people serve as docents inside the church. The gift shop will be open and people who have never seen the church can come in and see it.

We also have a printed program which will list

the menu, advertisements, etc. Most festival programs include memorials to deceased family members or friends. Forms are in the weekly bulletin if you wish to have a memorial for someone.

We've had an incredible response with volunteers for the festival, but we are still in need of more. Angie Kontur met recently with the food people and the electrician who is going to make sure we have all of the necessary electricity, and things are moving along. I'm thrilled with the level of excitement among so many people. All of us involved just have to remember that this is our first time of hosting the festival back here and we have to be patient. There will most likely be some flubs and mix ups, but that's how we'll learn to do a better job next year. We plan to close East 4th Street in front of the church at noon on the Tuesday before the festival. That way we won't interfere with the Food Pantry, but it will still give us enough time to set up the tents, install the lighting and be ready for the weekend.

It is interesting having weddings again this summer as strangers come into the church and are spell bound at how beautiful it is.

The recent rains have flooded the basement of St. Hedwig's Church. There just seems to be no way to keep the water out. The flooding this time was even more severe than the last time. Three separate engineers looked at the basement wall where the water is entering and told me unless it is repaired, it will most likely collapse. The company who got the bid to repair the back wall has been working in there all week and hopefully, this will do the trick. This is an unplanned expense and will cost the parish in excess of $5,000.

A man entered a Trappist monastery and was told that once every five years he would be allowed to utter two words. After the first five years, he was approached by the abbot and asked what he wanted to say. The monk said simply, "Bed hard." Five years later, the monk stood before the abbot again and this time he said, "Food cold." Another five years went by and the monk told the abbot, "I quit." The abbot replied, "I'm not the least bit surprised. All you've done for the past 15 years is complain."

If you are not a shopper and you would like to make a donation (check or cash) to the Ave Maria Society, we will do the shopping for you. Remember these donations are tax deductible. All gifts can be taken to the rectory and monies addressed to the Ave can be dropped in the collection basket. ## A Moment of Reflection

Reading I: 1 Kings 19:9-13

Gospel: Matthew 14: 22-23

Someone said that life happens, while we are making other plans. Our lives are marked by busyness, sadness, joy, chaos, confusion, uncertainty, times of satisfaction and happiness. Most people have a list of things they would like to do versus what they need to do. The pressures of today's living leave little time for prayer or reflection. Elijah did not hear God's voice in the noise of the wind, earthquake, and fire; but it was in the silence! Our ability to recognize God in everyday busyness is diminished when we have not taken time for silence to strengthen our relationship with God. Take time. Make time. How do you pray best?

Cancer Support Group

Individuals and families dealing with cancer are invited to share thoughts, hopes, angers and fears about cancer. The Cancer Support Group is led by Deacon Tom Matusiak who was a cancer caregiver. It is open to all people who are open to God's presence in their lives. The Cancer Support Group meets on the 3rd Thursday of each month at St. Mark Catholic Center, 429 East Grandview Blvd., Erie in the Bishop Michael J. Murphy Conference Room (entrance located in the back of the building on the west side and look for the big red "C" on the door. We meet from 7 pm until 8:15 pm. For more information contact Deacon Tom via email at deacon-tom@holytrinityrc.org or at Holy Trinity Church at 814/456-0671. Our next session is Thursday, August 21, 2014.

Latin American Collection

Thank you for your generous donations to the Collection for the Church in Latin America/Mission of Friendship. Your gifts will help to continue the work of the Diocese's own Mission of Friendship in Yucatán, Mexico, and to support evangelization, develop lay leadership programs and strengthen religious and seminarian formation in Latin America. The future of the region's Church is brighter today because of your help.
