Today is the 30th Sunday in Ordinary Time and our first reading is from the prophet Jeremiah. He prophesied before and during the Babylonian Exile, sometimes threatening judgment and other times promising mercy and restoration. Today's text falls into the latter category and it overflows with the promise of God's love manifested in an immense throng of God's people returning in joy to the promised land of their birth. "Shout... exult... proclaim," commands the prophet. God has ended the exile and will restore the nation. The names "Jacob" (another name for Israel) and "Ephraim" (a son of Joseph who became one of Israel's 12 tribes) both represent the nation as a whole.

A reading of scripture is always the "then" and the "now." What did it mean then and what does it mean now? This reading in the now sense reminds us that God, a father, will clear the way for his children, consoling and guiding them back to the safety of his heart. And he does this in every age.

We continue to read from Hebrews in our second reading as we proceed with a reflection of the high priesthood of Jesus, comparing and contrasting his role with that of human priests.

In our gospel from Mark we meet the blind beggar, Bartimaeus who has heard of Jesus and cries out so boldly that members of the crowd try to silence him. But he cries out all the more. Once Jesus takes note of him, the crowd then advocates for him and tells him to take courage and get up hoping that Bartimaeus will give them a share in the blessing he will receive. The fickle crowd serves as a foil for the resolute beggar who won't abandon his resolve to be heard. When he makes his request of Jesus, he is no longer shouting, but displays an earnest, intense simplicity that convinces Jesus this man "sees" better than the crowd or even his own disciples. And Jesus responds to him with the familiar, "Your faith has saved you." Recall in Mark that Jesus cannot get his own disciples to "see" who he is even though Jesus can give sight to the blind. It will only be after the resurrection that they will be able to understand.

Celebrant of the Saturday evening 5 PM Mass next weekend will be Father Dennis Martin, chaplain at Saint Vincent Health Center. Celebrant of of the Sunday 9 AM at St. Hedwig's and the 10:30 AM at St. Patrick's next Sunday will be Fr. Tom Fialkowski, retired pastor of Mount Carmel Parish. I will be in California to baptize the twin babies of some good friends.

Northwest Restoration has completed the pointing of the exterior of the church, painting all of the window frames, etc. They met with me last week to tell me that the roofs on the two large east and west gables of the church are beyond repair. They have to remove the slate, go down to the bare wood, and start over again. It just seems that every day brings another bit of bad news with the building, but we've started and we're going to do it and do it right. They estimate this work to cost about $100,000. We will borrow the money from the diocese, and we can pay it back. If you look simply at the amount of money we earned in our Irish Festival this year, we can use that money each year as repayment on the loan. There is no sense in doing all of the interior work and not having the building sealed against the weather. I don't like the news anymore than you, but I know we can handle it.

On a brighter side, Rick Statz, the general overseer from the Conrad Schmitt Studio in Milwaukee & Lynn Howard, the lighting consultant, will be here this week. They continue to assure me that they are right on schedule and that we will definitely be back in the church for Christmas Eve. I believe I mentioned to you that the refurbished pews and the new cushions are beginning to arrive and are being stored in the Cauley Auditorium until they will be returned to the church. There were 3 small pews up in the choir loft. We're having those refinished and new cushions made for them and they are then going to be permanently placed near the piano for the choir to use rather than returning the red chairs which they have been using.

The work on the vestibule is now underway and the work in the Gift Shop is complete and it really looks nice. I'm grateful to our custodian, Tony D'Aurora, for doing this work and for doing it so well. He had to re-plaster the walls and ceiling as they were so badly damaged.

Thursday, Nov. 1, is the feast of All Saints and a holyday. Masses are Wed. at 5 PM at St. Hedwig's and Thursday at 12:05 PM at St. Patrick's temporary location—Cauley Auditorium.

The Archdiocese of Philadelphia recently released financial data showing how bad its finances are. The archbishop noted that 2/3 of the parishes have operating deficits and over 100 of them are in serious financial distress. Parishes are $62 million in arrears in what they owe the archdiocese in assessments. That's a staggering amount of money. The archdiocese recently sold the cardinal's residence and an elegant mansion on the Jersey shore which was an open house for priests for a total of $14.1 million. I share those figures with you because, to a much smaller degree, we're going to find the same problem in our own diocese. We have a significant number of parishes who can't pay their bills, are not paying diocesan assessments, membership is plummeting downward and income decreasing. While dioceses in the south and the southwest are growing in numbers, many in the northeast are declining dramatically. Most of the dioceses around us have been forced to close parishes, and we're going to have to ultimately face that issue. It's going to be a difficult time for Bishop Persico as well as priests and people in the affected parishes, but we have too long delayed the inevitable.

High School students planning for college should think seriously about Gannon University and the advantages of their diocesan scholarship programs. Grants of $1,000 are available to new students who are members of a parish in the diocese and further grants of $1,500 are available to Catholic high school students who enroll for full-time undergraduate study directly out of high school.

Paraproverbs are figures of speech in which the latter part of a sentence is surprising and unexpected. "The last thing I want to do is hurt you, but it's still on my list." "Since light travels faster than sound, some people appear bright until you hear them speak." "In filling out an application, where it says 'In case of emergency, notify, I always put DOCTOR.'" "Behind every successful man is a woman. Behind the fall of a successful man is usually another woman." "Money can't buy happiness, but it sure makes misery easier to live with." "I used to be indecisive. Now, I'm not so sure." And, finally, "Going to church doesn't make you a Christian any more than standing in a garage makes you a car."

Bishop's ordination to air again:

Fortunately for viewers in Erie, Mercyhurst University's Laker TV, Channel 19 on Time Warner Cable in the City of Erie, will rebroadcast the ordination on Sunday, November 4 at 7 pm courtesy of WJET-TV.

A Moment of Reflection

Reading I: Jeremiah 31:7-9

Reading II: Psalm 126:1-6
Hebrews 5:1-6

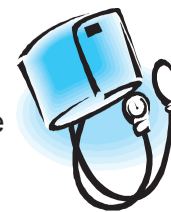

Gospel: Mark 10:46-52

Bartimaeus cries out with a prayer that transcends time—uttered by saints and everyday people alike across the ages—"Master, I want to see." We use different words, but the essence is the same—we want to be shown the way—understand God's plan—know the Lord better. When was the last time you prayed to God "I want to see"? What do you find yourself praying for most frequently?

Emergycare will be at the
Sr. Mary Pascal Gray Food Pantry

on Tuesday, November 30th to take the blood pressure of anyone who would like to take advantage of this free service.

Other news from the Food Pantry. We are in need of any "trimmings" for a Thanksgiving meal....anything suitable as a side dish such as cranberry sauce, canned vegetables, boxed stuffing, etc. Items can be dropped off at the rectory on the back porch. As always, we thank you for your generosity. Whenever there is a need, your response is very gratifying. We couldn't do this without your support.

CHRISTMAS AT THE FOOD PANTRY: Even though it is only October the volunteers at the Sr. Mary Pascal Gray Food Pantry are getting ready for Christmas for their clients. Each year gifts are given to the children who are clients at the Food Pantry. This year there is a need of gifts for children of all ages, but especially the 10-12 year age group. If you would like to donate gifts, please bring them to the Cauley Center when you come for Mass. There will be a box for collection. The gifts need not be wrapped. The volunteers will wrap the gifts after they assemble them for each client. Thanks for your help!

THE RINCE NA TIARNA dancers will be hosting pub night at Molly Brannigan's in February. Leading up to that night they are selling tickets for a hand made quilt that will be raffled off at the event. The quilt is on display at Tipperary West. Tickets for the quilt are available at Tipperary West, or by calling Carolyn Power at 566-9458. The dancers are also selling $25.00 gift cards to Molly Brannigan's.

NEED PRAYERS? Please call Mary Alice Hartwell at 454-5908 to have your prayer intentions placed on our joint parish prayer wheel. Please be assured that your prayer requests will be treated with respect and confidentiality.

Please make a special effort to remember in your daily prayers the members of our parishes who are hospitalized, in Long Term Nursing Care, or home-bound.

The Church & Divine Revelation

Why cannot the Bible be the sole guide to salvation?

It is not within the reach of everyone. If it were the only guide, it should be within the reach of every inquirer for God wishes all to be saved. If the Bible were the only guide to eternal salvation the primitive Christians would have been at a disadvantage, for the books that make up the Bible were gathered together only after the Church was established. Even when the parts were put together, for centuries there were very few manuscript copies. Copies remained few till the invention of printing in the fifteenth century. If the Bible were the only guide to salvation it would be of little help to those unable to read, as well as to the great mass of mankind today, who have neither the knowledge nor the capacity to penetrate the meaning of the written word.

FAMILY FAITH FAIR – As part of the Year of Faith the families of our Eastside parishes in the Sunday Faith Formation Program have chosen a saint as their family patron for this year. The families have made projects to share with us about their saint and why they chose a particular saint. The parishioners of our Eastside parishes are invited to visit the Family Faith Fair, Saturday, November 3rd from 10 am to 12 noon to see the family exhibits. Light refreshments will be served.

REMINDER TO ALL FAMILIES participating in the Eastside Catholic Faith Formation Ministry – Family Saint projects are to be in the Faith Formation Office no later than October 31st. Some families have already brought theirs to the office. The sooner the better! Thank you.

CALENDARS, DATES, EVENTS – regarding the Eastside Catholic Faith Formation Ministry can be found on the NEW website: www.eastsidecatholicffm.org.
